

BURLINGTON FARMERS' MARKET

Y E A R R O U N D

www.burlingtonfarmersmarket.org

For over 30 years, the Burlington Summer Farmers' Market has brought farmers and artisans into the city's historic downtown every Saturday from early May to late October. More than 60 stands overflow with a bounty of fresh, locally grown produce, handmade crafts, sweet and savory treats, meats, and cheeses from Vermont's lush pastures. People gather to wander around, chat with growers and friends, and fill their baskets with some of the best food money can buy. Like many places in Burlington, dogs are always welcome, but must be kept on a leash.

With the fortune of having so many farms and studios nearby paired with a growing interest in buying locally, the Burlington Winter Farmers' Market opened in 2008. Here you can find over 50 vendors offering a surprising array of hardy produce, prepared foods, crafts, and much more. Sheltered from the snowy Vermont weather, this indoor marketplace bustles with locals and visitors on select Saturdays from November to April.

The Burlington Summer Farmers' Market is one of the oldest and largest in Vermont

Enjoy live music and performances at the market. See the full lineup at www.burlingtonfarmersmarket.org

For over 30 years, the Burlington Summer Farmers' Market has brought farmers and artisans into the city's historic downtown every Saturday from early May to late October. More than 60 stands overflow with a bounty of fresh, locally grown produce, handmade crafts, sweet and savory treats, meats, and cheeses from Vermont's lush pastures. People gather to wander around, chat with growers and friends, and fill their baskets with some of the best food money can buy. Like many places in Burlington, dogs are always welcome, but must be kept on a leash.

With the fortune of having so many farms and studios nearby paired with a growing interest in buying locally, the Burlington Winter Farmers' Market opened in 2008. Here you can find over 50 vendors offering a surprising array of hardy produce, prepared foods, crafts, and much more. Sheltered from the snowy Vermont weather, this indoor marketplace bustles with locals and visitors on select Saturdays from November to April.

Depending on the season, these are some of the local specialties you might find:

AGRICULTURAL OFFERINGS

- artisanal cheeses
- local wines
- maple & honey
- potted plants
- heirloom vegetables
- eggs, poultry, & meat
- sweet fruits & berries
- vibrant cut flowers
- herbs & greens

PREPARED FOODS

- pickles, jams, & jellies
- ethnic specialties
- hearty meals
- fresh-baked bread
- saucers & spreads
- cold beverages
- desserts & pastries

ARTISAN WARES

- hand-thrown pottery
- wood & iron goods
- handmade jewelry
- soaps, scents, & lotions
- clothes & handbags
- photography & cards
- paintings & prints

SNAP Benefits & debit cards accepted at the Market Manager's Table

Here are just a few reasons to shop at our markets:

- Meet the farmers and artisans, ask questions, and discover things you've never seen and tasted — heirloom varieties, creative flavors, unique handmade items, and much more.
- Each market features a juried selection of local artists and craftspeople whose work ranges from traditional to contemporary.
- Markets like ours help keep Vermont's lush, green fields picturesque and used for active agriculture. Your support helps make that possible.

SUMMER FARMERS' MARKET

Every Saturday, May – October

8 a.m. – 2 p.m.

City Hall Park

(corner of College Street & St. Paul Street)

WINTER FARMERS' MARKET

Select Saturdays each month, November – April

For specific dates, please visit

www.burlingtonfarmersmarket.org

10 a.m. – 2 p.m.

Memorial Auditorium

(corner of Main Street & South Union Street)

Rain or Shine!

Use your smart phone's QR reader to go straight to our website for dates, directions, and more information.

www.burlingtonfarmersmarket.org